

Good boy.

Often, boys will be boys. Pulling pigtails and ringing doorbells may be harmless pranks, but many kids who hurt animals grow up to be violent criminals. FBI experts know that serial killers and rapists often have a history of animal abuse. Teach your child that it's wrong to hurt animals. If you know a child who has abused animals, tell the parents or police before the child's violence escalates. For more information, please visit PETA.org.
