

I AM NOT A NUGGET

Chickens, who make up nearly 96 percent of the land animals killed for food in the U.S. each year, aren't covered under the Humane Slaughter Act. These 9 billion chickens have no protection from abuse on factory farms and in slaughterhouses so they have their throats slit while they are completely conscious and are even scalded alive in feather-removal tanks. Chickens aren't nuggets—they're animals! And they deserve to be protected. Check out the peta2 tent at Warped Tour, or head over to peta2.com to sign the petition asking the government to protect chickens and pick up your free stickers and DVD!
